JUMP START

TEAM UP TO SPEED UP

Edge has designed this solution to enable rapid expansion of start-ups by letting you focus on your technical and business priorities.

Support your challenge with experienced resources. Adapt to uneven activity patterns. Preserve the promises made to customers and investors

Why do I need support?

Starting businesses tend to underestimate time for "simple tasks". As business grows, such tasks become time-hungry and weakens attention to product and commercial development.

Edge accompanies you and can grow as your activity grows.

Who commands operations?

You do. Whatever the services we provide, you guide and remain in control.
We advise you, make available our expertise from management coaching to daily activity execution, across all areas of the value chain.
You will access dashboards to pilot your operations.

Where do I start from?

Start by mapping your value chain. Identify the elements that make your business model distinctive and focus your energy on them.
We ensure the rest of the operation holds your effort.
We support your challenge by nurturing flexibility into your business.

What platform will I use?

You will be connected to our cloud platform where you can access every information and track progress.

Your data will be safely protected, it can even be on-premise if so required, using high security and confidentiality standards.

What happens as I scale up?

You need flexibility at each stage of your development.
We can transfer current activities back to you or cope with additional tasks. On demand.
Whatever the scenario, our aim is to maximize your success.
All systems and tools are available to be used independently, and our support can be called ad-hoc.
